

THEATRE OF THE BEAT

Staging Change since 2011

WHO IS TOTB?

Theatre of the Beat is a Canadian touring theatre company working to catalyze conversations on social justice and its intersection with the beliefs of the communities in which we find ourselves.

Since 2011, we have been staging change across the globe by creating original social justice theatre and workshops for underrepresented populations. Our company empowers its audience to work towards a just future.

We have performed over three hundred shows in theatres, festivals, churches, universities, and prisons across North America, the United States, and Europe.

TOTB FACILITATOR HIGHLIGHT

Lena Maripuu is so excited to be the Education & Outreach Coordinator at Theatre of the Beat! She is an actor, theatre creator, and artist-educator based in Toronto, who has taught drama to students from kindergarten through high school.

PAST WORKSHOP REVIEWS

"We were so thrilled that Theatre of the Beat was able to join us once again for our High School Peace Day. [The facilitators] created unique and student-centered activities that kept students engaged as they explored art and peace. It was great to see students smiling, thinking, and working collaboratively!"
